

For Immediate Release:

03/12/2013– SALT LAKE CITY, Utah – Paul Holton, President of Operation Give, announces the release of his book Collateral Kindness: The True Story of an Army Interrogator in Iraq, now available at selected bookstores, including Amazon and Barnes & Noble.

After 8 years, Operation Iraqi Freedom is now over and all the troops have finally come home. The liberation of Iraq and freedom for the Iraqi people came at great cost to the U.S. and to the men and women in the military who served there, but there is so much more to the story than the news would have you believe.

Did you know that the average Iraqi greatly appreciates the sacrifices the U.S. made and all the good that was done to help make Iraq safer and to give all Iraqis a fresh start and hope for a brighter future? Did you know that the majority of Iraqis are wonderful, loving, hospitable people, who desire many of the same things we do?

Collateral Kindness is the untold story of Paul Holton, chief warrant officer and army interrogator, and of his interactions with the Iraqi people - their warmth and kindness, their appreciation, and their deep love and respect for the U.S. soldier now seen in ways the average American never knew about. Collateral Kindness provides a glimpse of one soldier's successful efforts to win the Iraqis' hearts and minds.

“There is a personal, humanistic side to the war not depicted in any other stories coming out of Iraq. We, the U.S. military, were so successful in breaking through language and cultural barriers with the Iraqi people and accomplished so much good that has never been reported.”

True stories of the Iraqi war are now accounted for in Collateral Kindness: The True Story of an Army Interrogator in Iraq. This is the other more positive and more human side of the story never told as to what the army was really doing there.

###

For more information, contact:

Author: Paul Holton

Email: wigglesholton@yahoo.com

Website: www.operationgive.com

Blog: www.chiefwiggles.com

Phone number: 435-512-4956 (Elaine)
